

Dear Lab Tech Internship Student Applicant,

In the Kinesiology Department at California State University, San Bernardino, we are recruiting interns to serve in the Human Performance Lab (HP 119) and Biomechanics Lab (HP B04) at the San Bernardino Campus and the Human Performance Lab at Palm Desert Campus. Throughout the semester you will gain experience working with faculty and student lab technicians in one of the labs listed above. The types of activities you will be involved with include but are not limited to: learning about new equipment, learning how to calibrate new equipment, understanding the purpose of the tests and procedures, and lab maintenance.

If you are interested in this internship, please prepare the following documents and information seen below and submit all materials at this link.

- Contact info
- Schedule availability for semester applying
- Answers to a few questions (see below)
- 2 References
- Cover letter and Resume

Please feel free to ask any questions and we look forward to your application.

Sincerely,

Zhaojing Chen, Ph.D.
